
The final local model averages two seed checkpoints. Both fitting probes use four training patients.